A comic book illustration showing a muscular man with a beard and a woman behind vertical bars. The man is in the foreground, shirtless, with a black strap around his waist. He has a determined or angry expression. The woman is behind him, also shirtless, with blonde hair and a mouth guard. She is looking towards the viewer. The background is dark and indistinct.

A vertical comic book panel. A woman with blonde hair, wearing a black bikini, is shown from the waist up, positioned behind vertical metal bars. Her right arm is extended, and her hand is reaching out towards a small table in the foreground. On the table, there are two red, pill-shaped objects and a black, rectangular object. The background is dark and textured. The style is typical of comic book art, with bold lines and flat colors.

A close-up of a hand holding a red, cylindrical object, possibly a flashlight or a tool. The object has a textured, segmented appearance. A yellow 'CLICK' sound effect is visible in the bottom right corner.
